

Just in Case: Preparing your Family

If we learned anything in 2020, no one knows the future. It's better to be prepared just in case the worst occurs.

The most important documents you should have with your important papers are the ones designating a decision-maker if you are incapacitated. In the absence of clear direction from you, bad things can happen. First, your family might be paralyzed because third-parties might refuse to let them help you with financial affairs. Second, family in-fighting can occur because anywhere two or more people are gathered there are at least three opinions. Designating a decision-maker in a financial power of attorney and in an Advance Directive for Healthcare will minimize the potential for problems.

You should also prepare a list of important information and let your decision-maker know where to find it. It should include contact information, documents, and information about your financial assets such as real estate, vehicles, and digital assets (including passwords). It should include information about children, dependents, and pets. You can also include funeral instructions and personal messages to loved ones.

The form on the following page is just one of many that can be used to communicate important information to your decision-maker and other family members. Other forms can be found at:

TRUSTS AND POWERS OF ATTORNEY

An attorney can best advise you if you need to execute a Will. While it is possible to do Wills using various software packages, it is not advisable to do so without having it reviewed by an attorney. Even coping and old Will could be a problem, if you have changed your home of record or have any changes in your family or your assets. You should also rely on your attorney to advise you regarding a power of attorney. While many can be done without the use of an attorney, again the money is well spent if it ensures you and your family that your affairs are in order.

TRUST FUNDS

You may wish to seek the advice of your attorney and investment counselor to determine if establishing a Trust Fund would be beneficial. There are many types of Trust Funds for various purposes and each must be done by an attorney. Just remember that if you are setting up a trust fund and want your employee benefits to be paid into the trust, than you must update your beneficiary forms to reflect this.

ADVANCE DIRECTIVE FOR HEALTHCARE (LIVING WILL OR HEALTH CARE POWER OF ATTORNEY)

Individuals may also wish to execute a Living Will or Health Care Power of Attorney that instructs family members and physicians what steps they may want taken should they become unable to make health care decisions for themselves. Since copies of these documents may not be accepted by a physician, you should ensure that signed originals should be given to your private physician, your family members and possibly your attorney.
